

Aims

1. Frensham Heights will provide flexible, high quality teaching and learning supporting the highest individual student achievement appropriate to their needs and abilities. The school will value its historic commitment to all subjects “being equal” by providing excellent performing and creative arts, academic subjects and extensive sporting opportunities.
2. Student personal development will be encouraged through excellent pastoral care based around the close working relationships of staff and students which enables a deep understanding of each individual and through access to a wide range of co-curricular activities, community events, leadership roles and outdoor learning opportunities.
3. In support of personal achievement and development Frensham Heights has committed to reinforcing the progressive nature of education: this is Ethos Led Learning. Through this process of change we have introduced and continue to develop: Approaches to Learning, Independent Learning, the Knoydart project, non-financial Scholarship & Enrichment programme, improved use of IT, reinforced through improved professional development opportunities and a commitment to preparing students for a changing digital future.
